Newsletter

Greetings to all,

It is hard to believe September is upon us, where did summer go?

Entering the Fall, we will have so much going on.

- September 19th, we welcome Laura Louise Green, LPC as she leads our conversation of mental health in the hospitality industry. Laura is the Founder of "Healthy Pour". Continuing educational credit will be offered to participants.
- The beginning of the election season for our Chapter will begin on September 30th.
- October 3rd, we will be by our friends at Eli's Cheesecake and the meeting will be sponsored by Smithfield Culinary.
- November 7th, a great meeting not to miss, Jim Murray from the National Pork Board will give a demonstration on multiple ways pork can be fabricated and merchandised. Continuing educational credit will be offered to participants.
- December 6th, a Tuesday, we will have an end of year dinner at La Villa Restaurant and Banquets; Hosted by Cristina and Sam Petrancosta.
- January 2023, we will be at Ajinomoto. They have been helping global communities eat and live well since 1908, when Dr. Kikunae Ikeda discovered and isolated the compound that gives food its umami taste. Chef Chris Koetke, MBA, CEC, CCE, HAAC will lead a discussion focusing on umami. Continuing educational credit will be offered to participants.
